

Our Sense of Self

While New Zealand may be geographically distanced from the epicentres of the fashion world, it's clear that as a nation we understand what constitutes great design and style.

Our design savvy may come from being well travelled and in tune with what's happening globally. Or it may be from being challenged by something more fundamental to our make up and identity, the New Zealand environment. Where else can you be inspired by such a diverse range of elements as those found within the coast, the bush, the farmland, the urbanscape and the city setting. These influences give rise to a distinctive flavour and look, and ultimately a style that easily and proudly takes its place on the world stage.

As a New Zealand bathroom accessory company Heirloom appreciates your demand for the latest design fashions with a local flavour. Our team is constantly scouring the international and regional markets to stay abreast of the emerging bathroom trends, and then ensuring that these designs appeal to your sense of self and way of living. And when we can't find what we're looking for, or the styles don't stun us, we have the in-house ability to design, adapt and manufacture them until they do.

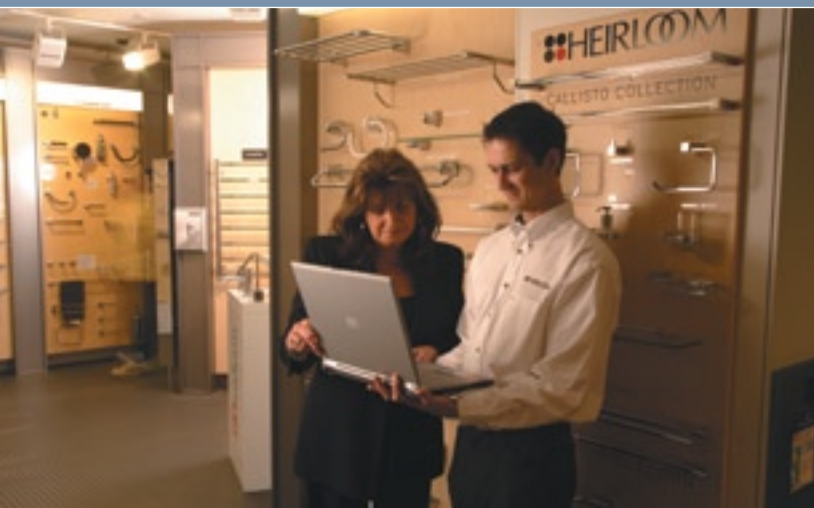

Given we all know that beauty is in the eye of the beholder we've invested in a range large enough to cater for any sense of style and budget. From soft round curves to modern sleek edges we have a style to suit any bathroom environment.

Going the Distance

Being a local manufacturing company for over 25 years, Heirloom understands that as New Zealanders we not only have our own sense of style but a strong, inbuilt sense of functionality. Let's face it, it's a given that assets like bathroom accessories should be designed to look great. It should also be a given that they be designed to work well and built to take the treatment bathroom accessories have to withstand. Heirloom always ensures that international and domestic bathroom designs meet our tough functionality and durability standards. Our products are made with the highest quality, hard wearing materials and precision machinery, and are all covered under our warranty programme.

Only the Best

Just like the high quality of the accessories we offer you, Heirloom prides itself on working with only the best distributors in your local area. Our suppliers work alongside us to ensure that you get the range, the advice and the assistance needed to be confident of your choice of bathroom accessories. Should you need further help or information, feel free to contact us via our website, www.heirloom.co.nz, or on our Customer Helpline 0800 434 756.

Our Public Face

Understandably Heirloom prides itself on working with only leading plumbing suppliers and merchants. We can't afford not to since they are the face of Heirloom in our customers' eyes. Partnering with retailers that care about our success and image as much as we do is vital to Heirloom's growth. We believe that we repay our retailers' support with superior national delivery, and service where and when they need it.

Our Design Cohorts

Our sustained involvement with architects and designers over the years has given us inspiration and guidance, and validated that we offer fashionable and desirable collections with corresponding quality and value. We understand that the ability to get direct service and technical support is important, as is modifying or customising accessories to meet large job requirements.

On the Job

We appreciate that offering relevant and reliable support for tradespeople is critical to the final look and functionality of our products. Our comprehensive technical information and installation instructions make things smooth and easy, reducing the frustration of installation difficulties. But where needed, our team is always happy to provide prompt on site support.

Behind the Scenes

Our heritage stems from years of locally manufacturing the highest quality bathroom accessories. From our experience, using only premium materials and manufacturing practices allows accessories to withstand bathroom and shower conditions. From our developmental insight we know when a design form or fashion element won't handle continual daily use. Be it a locally manufactured or internationally sourced Heirloom accessory, you can be assured you're buying a product that meets our toughest performance requirements.

YOU CAN BE ASSURED YOU'RE BUYING A PRODUCT THAT MEETS OUR TOUGHEST PERFORMANCE REQUIREMENTS.

Our Promise

Each Heirloom accessory comes with a warranty, dependent on the collection and materials used. We are proud of our products and their durability and take our warranties seriously.

We kindly, and promptly, replace any irregular or missing elements. Because Heirloom is not able to control the installation process, we cannot extend the warranty to include installation.

Should you need further help or information, feel free to contact us via our website, www.heirloom.co.nz, or on our Customer Helpline 0800 434 756.

The Genesis Collection

Exceptionally smart and simple. Let the essence of functionality emerge.

Minimalist style encapsulates modern design elements: Strong, bold and functional. It's not by chance that these form the basis of the Genesis Collection of bathroom accessories.

Design is also more than appearance. The double mounted pillars ensure Genesis accessories cannot twist loose while the 304 grade solid stainless steel used in the Genesis construction is renowned for its durability and use in the marine environment.

Every accessory in this extensive range is supplied with an optional wall backing plate to provide another look as well as additional support on soft wall surfaces. Our confidence in the durability of this collection is evidenced by our 25 year warranty.

The Premier Collection

Distinctive design comes from surprisingly simple sources.

We've drawn on the inspiration of Art Deco - one of the most influential design and architectural periods - to bring you the Premier Collection. The Premier's circular shapes and solidity reflect the character and personality of Art Deco, while the collection itself demonstrates the distinctive innovation that characterizes Art Deco design.

The Premier Collection comes in chrome, white or ivory with your choice of gold and chrome trim rings. Given the hard-wearing chrome and epoxy powder-coating process used for this range, it comes with a three-year warranty.

EVERYDAY

The Nexus Collection

It's easy to find the hidden treasures when you know where to look.

Nexus comes in any of four finishes: white, ivory, chrome, or satin chrome, as well as gold and chrome trim rings. Nexus gives you even more flexibility, given the single towel rail can be cut to a length that suits, which is great for small bathrooms where wall space may be an issue.

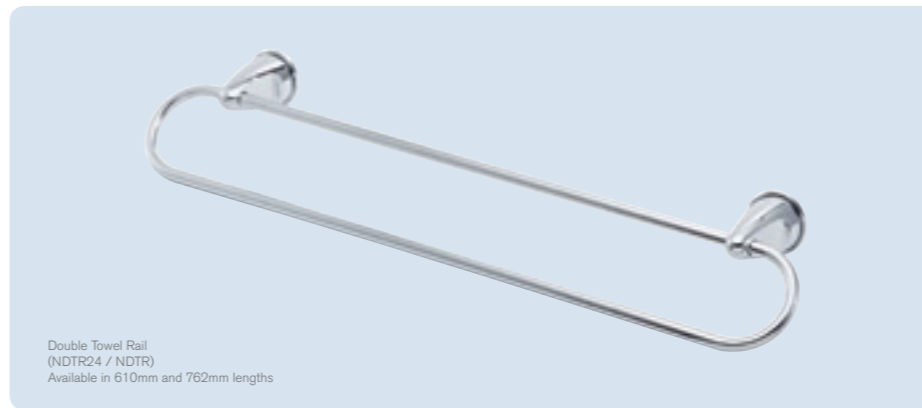

The Nexus Collection comes with a three-year warranty.
